

Abattoir Operative

We are a leading, Scottish based, meat primary & production business with an impressive history and reputation for quality, integrity and innovation; working with leading food retailers and delivering excellent customer service & innovative quality products.

We are now looking to complement our existing team, by recruiting for Abattoir Operatives to join our successful Abattoir team based in Bridge of Allan, Stirling, who are at the heart of driving customers excellence.

The successful candidates will ensure that the carcasses are dressed and trimmed according to Scotbeef and customer specifications. Abattoir Operatives require a moderate to high degree of physical ability depending on the task being undertaken. While being a line worker requires being physically fit in order to carry out the various manual aspects of the job, the job of Slaughtering and Dressing Cattle requires particular physical ability.
